

Pfizer Patient Access Coordinators help patients access their Pfizer Dermatology prescription

A Patient Access Coordinator (PAC) is a Pfizer professional who can explain to patients how their insurance works and how they can obtain their Pfizer Dermatology prescription from the Specialty Pharmacy.

If your patient is enrolled in Pfizer Dermatology Patient Access[™] (PDPA), they will automatically receive PAC support.

If your patient is prescribed CIBINQO, the PAC will be the SPOC (single point of contact) for the patient. The PAC can:

-  Serve as a subject matter expert on reimbursement, access, and coverage issues
-  Provide an estimated out-of-pocket cost, if available
-  Explain a patient's summary of benefits and whether prior authorization is required
-  Educate and Connect patients to PDPA-specific resources and affordability options for which they may be eligible
-  Address patient access questions and provide status updates regarding the prescription process
-  Offer patients live access and reimbursement support, and share appropriate touchpoints and status updates over the phone
-  Assist with copay enrollment and activation support

If your patient is prescribed LITFULO, the PAC will be the SPOC (single point of contact) for the patient. The PAC can:

-  Serve as SPOC during enrollment process
-  Assist with copay enrollment and activation support
-  Serve as a subject matter expert on reimbursement, access, and coverage issues
-  Provide an estimated out-of-pocket cost, if available
-  Educate and Connect patients to PDPA-specific resources and affordability options for which they may be eligible
-  Explain patient's summary of benefits and whether prior authorization is required
-  Offer patients live access and reimbursement support, and share appropriate touchpoints and status updates over the phone
-  Address patient access questions and provide status updates regarding the prescription process
